WHY SAY NO TO ICE HOLDS?

The jail sends people to ICE for deportation after their sentence is served.

The goal of the Criminal Justice System is not rehabilitative. It is to punish and to make money. Deportation is an extension of this logic.

Honoring ICE detainer requests significantly extends jail stays

Average jail stay for people subject to ICE detainer request was about 1 month longer.
For those charged with a felony offense, the stay was about 2 months longer

ICE detainees target people without serious criminal charges and histories

50% of people subjected to ICE detainees have only a misdemeanor
13% of people subject to ICE detainer were not charged with a crime before transfer to ICE for deportation

King County is not repaid for the cost of detaining immigrants.

In 2011: KC Jail spent $3 million to detain immigrants for ICE. This amount was not reimbursed. Not honoring ICE detainer requests would save local government $1.8 million/year

Racial Profiling of Latin@ people

~ 30% of people who were detained by ICE upon release from jail are Latin@
The KC Juvenile Detention Center collaborates with ICE on transferring immigrant YOUTH for deportation.
